WHAT ARE AUSTRALIAN/NEW ZEALAND STANDARDS AND WHY ARE THEY IMPORTANT?

TM 5 TICKS STANDARDSMARK™ CERTIFICATION

The StandardsMark™ Scheme (also known as a System 5) demonstrates that the manufacturer has the capability to consistently manufacture a product to meet the relevant Australian or International product standard. It involves a combination of type testing of sample products and a rigorous ongoing audit assessment of the manufacturing site. The StandardsMark™ licence is an on-going licence and covers as many models of the product providing that they fall under the scope of the same product standard. The licence allows the certified compliant products to display the 'Five Ticks' StandardsMark™ logo.

Find out more about SAI Assurance's 5 Tick StandardsMark™.

To meet certification requirements, the SAI Global 'Five Tick' StandardsMark™ logo must always be shown with the licensed manufacturer's identification number.

This number ensures traceability and proof of certification back to the manufacturer and is mandatory for all certified products. The Five Tick StandardsMark™ certification not only reinforces trust in the quality and reliability of respiratory protective devices but also drives a proactive culture of health and safety within the workplace.

Utilising certified products demonstrates a clear commitment to compliance, risk mitigation, and the well-being of all personnel.

Choosing Industree Group certified respiratory protective devices with the SAI Global Five Tick StandardsMark™ ensures that the equipment has been independently tested to the Australian/New Zealand Standards (AS/NZS 1716:2012) and verified for its effectiveness in protecting against specific workplace hazards. This level of assurance is essential, as the use of inadequate or non-compliant / uncertified respiratory protective devices can result in serious injuries and long-term health risks.

INDUSTREE GROUP proudly partners with SAI Global under the Five Tick StandardsMark™ certification scheme, holding the official SAI Global License SMK41528 — a powerful symbol of excellence, unwavering integrity, and Australian/New Zealand certification that defines our leadership in setting industry standards.
